OBITUARY.

Mr. E. J. Chappelle, of Acadia.

The death of Mr. E. J. Chapele, of Acadia, on Tuesday, March 25, was deeply felt by the whole community. The deceased was sixty-two years of age, and had been suffering for some time past with rheumatism, and about three weeks ago developed crys-pelas, which caused his death.
Mr. Chappelle was an old-timer in this district, coming here from Highgate, Vermont, in 1906. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and four children. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family in their sorrow.

A funeral service was held at the house on Friday morning by the Rev. Finlay, after which the interment took place at the Oyen cemetery the same day.

R. S. Cairns Accidentally Killed

Mr. R. S. Cairns, a well-known resident of this district, met with a fatal accident and instantly killed while working in a saw mill in the States on March 21.
The deceased was 62 years of age, and came to this district in 1913, where he farmed until last fall. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and four children.

Splendid Entertainment Given By Benton People

If you want quantity combined with quality in an entertainment the place to go is Benton, for the people there certainly know how to arrange and carry out a good program of amusement. The concert given in the hall last Friday evening was a splendid success in every way, and goes to show what our neighboring town can do in the way of entertaining.
The programme on Friday evening consisted of twenty-five numbers including songs, recitations, musical selections and sketches. Too much praise cannot be given the children who performed, and those who were responsible for their training great credit is due them.
One of the most interesting and amusing features of the evening was a sketch given by the Benton people entitled, "Courting under Difficulties", was well staged. The Benton choir, which has only been organized about two months, very ably rendered a couple of choruses.
Mrs. E. Marlett, who is well-known in the district for her musical ability, played three violin solos, accompanied by Miss E. Church.

The proceeds were in aid of the Oyen Methodist Parsonage fund, and as a result of this effort the sum of thirty-five dollars was realized.

CONSTRUCTION NOTES

Building for Comfort

The department of public works will erect an extension to the Brandon asylum.

Dr. M. A. Evans has this to say in the Chicago Daily Tribune: The Heating and Ventilating Magazine says that next to water leaking through the roof "the worst enemy of the householder is wind."

Factory for Brandon

A well known manufacturing firm has announced its intention of erecting a factory and warehouse at Brandon, based on a new price policy that instead of building material and gradually declining in prices, that all raw materials should be made now, and a new standard made toward gradual upward prices as the seasons advances.

Proposed Road Experiments

Regina, Sask.—Experiments in connection with the construction of permanent highways capable of carrying heavy truck traffic will be undertaken at two points in the province by the highways department of the C.P.R. main line should cross the Red river at Selkirk and the town was established and thousands of dollars of private money invested in the strength of the government's plans.

Bridge for Selkirk

The citizens of Selkirk will make another attempt to induce the federal government to build a bridge over the Red river at this place, the ancient town of Selkirk. The citizens also claim that they are entitled to special consideration from the government, for it was originally intended that the C.P.R. main line should cross the Red river at Selkirk and the town was established and thousands of dollars of private money invested in the strength of the government's plans.

The Pas To Have Mining Office

The Pas, Man.—That the mining records office will remain at The Pas is the advice received from the department. Officers had been given to remove it to Dauphin, but representations were made that this would handicap the mining development. The news was received here with great satisfaction and telegrams of thanks were sent to the minister of the interior.

Strong for Reclamation Work

Lethbridge.—At the best meeting yet held in southern Alberta, Taber farmers passed a resolution urging the C.P.R. to immediately proceed with the Taber irrigation project for which surveys have been completed. They also urged the Dominion government to undertake, as soon as possible, the larger irrigation scheme southeast of Lethbridge, which will serve a large area.

Plan Memorial Hall

A $75,000 memorial hall is planned for the city of North Battleford. The project is favored by Mayor Thomas and has received the support generally of the citizens and members of the G.W.V.A. It is proposed to canvas the city and district and no time will be lost in getting the building under way.

Munition Cases as Kindling

Burlington, N. Y.—Eleven thousand munition cases, constructed of seasoned spruce timber, made especially for the Russian army four years ago, are being used for kindling wood by Vermonters. These boxes were sent to New Jersey to be filled, but some delay was caused and hence they are being used for kindling.

More Schools for Manitoba

Eighty-four Consolidated Schools in Operation in the Province. Though there has been little perceptible increase in the adult population of Manitoba during the last three years, 125 new schools are now in operation in the province. These were at the beginning of that period. The progressiveness of the education department is shown by these increased facilities for education. There are now 125 new schools in operation in the province, and the number is expected to increase further.

Russia Needs Books

Impossible That New Social Order Shall Come Without Education

Catherine Breshkovsky has arrived in New York and has told her story, at least the beginning of it. This old woman is called "Babushka," the grandmother of the Russian revolution. She has spent about 40 years in prisons or Siberian exile for political offenses under the regime of the Czar. She was born in Siberia after the revolution of March, 1917, and was received in Petrograd with demonstrations of popular enthusiasm, the reborn and reborn around the world. She is again a fugitive from her own country. There are reports that she had been murdered by the Bolsheviks. It was due to her ferberance that the story was untrue. She was in hiding for two months in Petrograd and then for six months in Moscow and was finally spirited in great detours and underground railway across the Urals into Siberia, in such a manner that hunted political offenders used to flee in the days of the Czar. She has been and is being persecuted by the Bolsheviks, and she is still preaching her message—Russia's need of education. The revolution and the new social order cannot come without education. She is still in that education; but now there is less education than ever, no "alphabet," no primary schools. "Nothing is being taught. Culture is dead," she says.

So Mme. Breshkovsky has started on a new campaign to bring America to help her educate the people who have driven her forth into exile again and make them understand the true meaning of liberty.

"There is no learning in Russia now," she says. "The people have been deprived of schools, no colleges, no universities. There is no culture in Russia. The people have no chance to learn. That is why I say to you that Russia is a bet." They talk of helping Russia, and they send armies. I am afraid that it may be that the Russian people are not yet ready to receive the help of the West. The men and women who want to help—the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association and the Red Cross and others—say: "What shall we do to help?" And I say to them: "Send us not one book, or a few books, but millions of books. Yes, of course, the Bolsheviks do not wish that, but we, the Socialists, have committees and organizations through which these books can be distributed to the people and this must be done."

It is impossible, Breshkovsky says, that the new social order can come without education. "We must teach and fight," she says. "It is what we did when it was necessary to overthrow the monarchy and the Czar. It must be done again to overthrow the Bolshevik, who are worse. At first, they preached that they were the saviors, the people were glad, but now they see how it is. They see how Russia is under military discipline; how men and women are starving everywhere. They were simple people, and at first there were many decess who were not hungry. It was permitted to take the land, to take the factories, to take the banks. They were simple people. They were very glad. But now they see how it is. There used to be two main people in Petrograd. Now there are less than a million. Many have been refugees. They go—they know not where. It is a pity that it was when I was in Moscow to Vlodivostok. The train would stop one hour, two hours, three hours, at every town. We would ask the railway why. He did not know. He simply told us we must wait. And everywhere, there was piled the trucks and loading of women and children, and old people. Being from the Bolshevik, waiting, waiting, waiting; going they knew not where."

Dairy Industry Making Rapid Strides

Growth of Industry in Western Canada Can Only Be Described as Marvellous

The growth of the dairy industry in Western Canada during the last few years can only be described as marvellous. The following account of Manitoba's progress, taken from the Winnipeg Tribune, is characteristic of the progress of the whole of the Canadian Prairie West in this industry.

"Six years ago Manitoba was a little-known province. Today the province is in a position to export approximately 4,000,000 pounds of the finest butter in the world, and to produce, according to the provincial dairy commissioner's assets, that in a few years Manitoba will become one of the great butter producing districts of the world."

"The growth of the dairy industry in Manitoba has been phenomenal, as official figures of the last few years show."

"In 1912, in order to meet domestic requirements, 55 cars of butter, aggregating 1,200,000 pounds, had to be purchased from eastern Canada or the United States. That year local dairies produced nearly 3,000,000 pounds of creamery butter, and 4,333,905 pounds of factory butter."

"About that time the provincial government started a campaign in favor of mixed farming. The agricultural areas of the province, especially in the north and south, are essentially well suited for this class of production. Efforts were made to encourage farmers to increase their cattle herds and to enter more largely into the business of producing cream and butter, than had been the case."

"For two or three years, little headway was made. It must be admitted, however, that the campaign had the effect of increasing the production of butter to produce sufficient butter for domestic requirements. In 1913 butter production dropped to a negligible quantity, and two years later had vanished entirely. Instead, in 1915, the production of butter was 175,000 pounds, and the export of Manitoba export butter found their way to Eastern Canada. The reception of this product received a high rating by the Eastern buyers, especially sought the Manitoba product and from that time on the success of the Manitoba dairying industry was assured."

"The year now ended was a record year for creamery butter in regard to production and quality product. Official figures of production are not yet available, but it is estimated that more than 8,250,000 lbs. of butter, aggregating nearly 4,000,000 lbs., were available for export."

"As to quality, Manitoba butter at Toronto, carried off highest honors at Toronto exposition and dairy show last September, and government graders declare that the prize-winning sample was not many points in excess of the average quality of butter exported from this province."

"Commissioner Gibson says Manitoba is destined to be one of Canada's—of not one of the world's—greatest butter producing districts. He believes that the strong policy of the provincial department of agriculture at the present time, the various encouragements given by the department and the agricultural college and furthermore the return of many thousands of soldiers from the front, will result in mixed farming receiving an impetus such as it has not experienced in many years."

THE RUBBISH PILES.

The time will soon be here when we shall have to think of clearing that rubbish pile. They mar the looks of a town more than anyone would imagine, until one visits another town, and finds these piles of rubbish. They are far more noticeable to us in another town than in our own, for here, knowing where they are, and accustomed to passing them every day, we soon cease to notice them. "Dump" piles not only mar the looks of a town, but they render it unwholesome. We know that our village councillors have done all in their power, other years to keep the town sanitary, and have struggled against odds, but we would like to impress upon every citizen that it is YOUR duty to see that every rubbish pile is removed as soon as conditions permit. Abolish rubbish piles and other such traps of disease, and you will find that the sick list in our town will be small.

THE HOSPITAL.

Never in the history of the West was there a time as at the present, when the need for a hospital in the district was more keenly felt. Yet even now there are a few, and only a few, who are afraid of a hospital, not because they think they may have to use it. Oh, no, but because they may be called upon to pay a little more taxes for its upkeep. The hospital is one of the most helpful and needed institutions of civilization, and the natural place of resort in a severe illness, or in case an operation is to be performed. A hospital is equipped so that care and skilled attention far better than in your home, especially if you live in the country, can be given. The hospital should be welcomed as an institution of mercy, a home of rest and cure.

A farmer told us of a conversation he once overheard between a boy and a Christian Scientist. It appears that the scientist came across a small boy sitting under a snapdragon doubled up with pain. "My little man," he said, "what is the matter?" "I ate some green apples," moaned the little fellow, "and oh, how I ache!" "You don't ache," announced the scientist, "you only think so." The boy looked up in astonishment, and then replied in a most positive manner, "That's alright, you may think so, but I've got inside information."

A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in his paper, wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was just looking over the columns of the paper to see what business did not advertise so that he could spin his web over the door and be free from disturbance.

The new list of publications of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa contains titles of about three hundred bulletins, circulars, and other pamphlets that deal with agricultural practices. These cover the whole range of agricultural and horticultural pursuits, including: dairying, field crops, live stock, orchard and garden crops, poultry, insects and plant disease, farm building construction, farm machinery and many other topics. The subjects are arranged alphabetically under general titles. Not only are the lists themselves available from the Publications Branch of the Department, but any of the publications therein contained.

The second regular meeting of Municipal District of Cereal went at Oyen to-day.

WALLIS

America's Foremost Tractor.

In every new industry, one manufacturer eventually becomes the leader. In the tractor field, the Wallis has become "America's Foremost Tractor."

The Wallis weighs 1,000 to 5,000 pounds less than tractors designed to do the same work. It has completely enclosed gears, including the final drive. It has a motor comparable in quality of material and workmanship, with the highest type aeroplane engine—it keeps cool. The Wallis has high-grade, strong steel in place of coarse heavy cast iron. It has all gears drop forged, cut and hardened. It has Hyatt Bearings throughout.

These features add years to the life of a tractor. They make breakdowns and delays almost unknown. They enable you to do 30 to 50 per cent more plowing per gallon of fuel than with the ordinary tractor.

In short, the Wallis is America's Foremost Tractor, because of its "thorobred" appearance, because it plows an acre of ground at less cost than any other; and because, at any kind of farm work it affords true economy.

Investigate the Wallis. Write us for the latest Wallis catalogue.

The Canadian Fairbanks Morse intend giving a demonstration in the district in the near future. The time and place will be advertised later. We also expect to have one of their tractors in stock by the 1st April.

THE CROSS CUT SAW

Long-toothed and lumber implement, when I was just a kid, I followed you reluctantly to do as I was bid. When Dad would take you from the shed, 'was well established law. That I would trot along to pull the cross-cut saw.

We used to have a piece of pork to grease it when 'would "pitch." For tugs! when the thing would cramp I tell ye was no chick; I'd yank and strain and puff, you bet, my best bet to draw it out of that there measly, stinky' cross-cut saw.

Sometimes the tree was lodged up high, and then my arms 'ud ache. Sometimes 'was stretched along the ground, my back would nearly break; And I'd be knuckle! In the snow, my knees would make it thaw. Acetilla' up of cord-wood with a cross-cut saw.

When I look 'round among the kids of Nineteen and One Nine, Who don't do much but go to school, and have a dandy time, I picture what a kick they'd make—what awful consternation, 'Vere they obliged to take a spell at cross-cut recreation.

The cross-cut saw hangs like now, back in the old homestead, And Dad, with whom I swung its length, is numbered with the dead; And sometimes homesick memories at my heart-strings seem to gnaw. The memories of the days I pulled a cross-cut saw.

EXCEL

Another land deal gone thro in the Excel district. Chris. Neilson sold his half section of land for $25 an acre to Christ Bros., of Calgary. Mr. Neilson will sell his farm stock and implements by auction, Tuesday, April 8th. Mr. Neilson expects to leave shortly for California.

Miss Ruth Barnes is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Collinge.

Oscar Edstrom returned Friday from Calgary.

We are glad to see Mr. Frank Thayer and family back on the farm. Mr. Thayer left last fall for Washington to reside if prospects looked good. The fact that he is back speaks for itself.

The U.F.W.A. was organized last week with ten members. We hope this organization will grow in this district, and if the farm women will join there is not the slightest doubt but this branch will be one of the strongest in Alberta.

Don't forget the U.F.A. dance next Friday evening. Mrs. Howard and Mr. Burkholder will supply the music. This is the last dance of the season for Excel and the entertainment committee hope to see a record crowd.

Peace Conference Has Decided To Adjourn

London.—The peace conference at Paris has decided to adjourn as a result of the attack upon Premier Clemenceau, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris.

The reparations committee on assembly suspended for a resolution proposed by Premier Hughes of Australia, expressing sympathy for M. Clemenceau and denouncing the attempted assassination.

The commission for the study of Rumanian territorial questions met under the chairmanship of Captain Andre Tardieu and continued discussion of the claims of Rumania, according to a communiqué issued by the commission.

Paris.—Prospects of an early accomplishment of its objects by the peace conference have been marred by clouded by the avowal of Premier Clemenceau by a murderous assassin. While the actual wound might not be serious for the prime minister, the effect of the shock upon a man of Mr. Clemenceau's age gives ground for the fear that he will be further incapacitated from the work of the conference will be limited. Proceedings of the conference to date, however, have rather suggested that Mr. Clemenceau is one of three indispensable members of the conference. Premier Clemenceau speaks for France with authority that no other public man can exercise, and in his absence from the council when peace questions, as they affect the interests of France, come up for consideration may prove unfortunate.

None of the difficult and in some measure dangerous questions in which France is involved has yet been decided. They include territorial problems in Syria and Africa, the fixing of a new eastern frontier, reparations and indemnities.

There had been a growing hope that as a result of protests from various quarters that some attempt would be made to hurry progress of the conference. The indications were for three weeks of steady hard work but with little to report in the interval. All committees have been told they are to be in a position to make definite reports to the conference by the middle of March, and it was expected that following the return of President Wilson these decisions would be speedily dealt with by the council of ten, and referred to the plenary conference for consideration.

Report Is Denied

London.—A belated Amsterdam dispatch says that according to British advice President Erzberger of the German armistice commission has handed to the plenipotentiaries a note describing as "pure invention" the report that Germany was not demolishing and had assembled eighteen divisions in the neighborhood of Thion.

Britain Must Keep a Strong Army on Rhine

London.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, paid a high tribute to Premier Clemenceau at a luncheon given at the Mansion house on the subject of demobilization and the army of occupation. The object of the meeting, said Mr. Churchill, was to ask the employers throughout the country to do their best to assure the men who had been retained in the army of occupation to keep their places open for them, as they had been in the past.

"We have introduced a new scheme for the organization of an army of occupation under which we propose to retain about 500,000 men for the defence of the British and allied interests during 1919," he continued. "We are letting go three men out of every four serving with our colors on November 11 next when the fighting stopped, and we are paying the fourth man double to finish up the job. All information received goes to show that the soldiers regard this treatment of the problem as essentially fair."

"We are engaged at the present time in forming a voluntary army to garrison the British empire, replacing the old army, which served us so well through the years of peace, and was not found wanting when the hour of battle came. But at least a year will be required to form this voluntary army. At the present time, we are obtaining recruits and volunteers, some with two or three years service

Ask Explanation

Stockholm.—It is learned that the American minister here, after a conference with the Swedish foreign office, has requested consideration of the allied governments at the peace conference, a suggestion from the Siberian government that Sweden, which since America's entrance into the war had been looking after the interests of German and Austrian prisoners on behalf of the Siberian government, ask for permission to at once return more than 250,000 prisoners by the way of Vladivostok. The communication also asks that tonnage and foodstuffs be placed at the disposal of Sweden for the transfer can be made.

Want Representative Meeting

National Industrial Conference Will Be Convened on February 27
London.—The union of labor announces that the national industrial conference will be convened on February 27 at Westminster, and that it is desired that the conference be as fully representative of British labor as possible.

According to unofficial statements, 300 invitations have been issued and Sir Robert S. Horne, labor minister, will preside. The conference is expected to make its report by the end of March.

At an emergency meeting of the consultative committee of labor's triple alliance, it has been agreed that in view of the government's action in calling the conference, "nothing should be done precipitately to bring the trades union movement into dispute."

Dual Leadership Suggested

Ottawa.—Succession to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as leader of the opposition continues the one topic of political speculation. Mr. Fielding's name is apparently most in favor, although there is some disposition to question whether he would be acceptable to the French members who would constitute a large part of the party.

Mr. Fielding's name is apparently most in favor, although there is some disposition to question whether he would be acceptable to the French members who would constitute a large part of the party.

Two Subs for Canada

Ottawa.—The British admiralty has offered as a gift to the Canadian navy forces two submarines now at Bermuda. Sir Robert Borden, on behalf of the Dominion, has accepted the offer.

The lords commissioners of the admiralty said that this gift will be accepted as some recognition of the great contribution made to the defense of the empire by Canadian naval forces in the course of the war.

"The British people have never failed to do what was necessary to maintain the vital interests of the state. Let them beware who would try to rob us of the fruits of victory, whether they are Germans or our great allies. We are going to defend them, wherever they are, and we are going to defend them, wherever they are, and we are going to defend them, wherever they are."

"There is another reason why we require to maintain a large force in the present year. We have just had a war with Germany; we have spent a great deal of money and have lost a great many of our best men in winning the war, and we are going to make sure that we do not have to fight that war with Germany over again."

"We are going to take measures which will make it physically impossible for Germany to begin a war of revenge, at any rate during our lifetime. We are going to ask Germany to agree to those measures and help us carry them out. And after she has agreed, we are going to stand by and see that she does carry them out, not only in the letter, but in the spirit."

Farmers Ask For Reforms

Non-Partisan League Holds Revival and Emphasizes Old and New Sentiments

Calgary, Alta.—At a convention of the Alberta Non-Partisan League, resolutions were passed calling for organization of the province for political action and co-operation with the U.F.A. in federal action; repeal of the war-time elections act; emphasizing the right of women to all in the federal parliament; favoring the forming of a council consisting of G.W.N.A.s, trades union and organized farmers to decide on an immigration policy and the treatment of aliens; demanding that the government find employment for all who desire work by organizing industry for service and the freeing of land held by exploiters, that provision be made to permit all aliens who wish to return to their native land and in the case of those who remain employed be found for them or failing that they be sent home at the government's expense.

Other resolutions called for freedom of the press and of speech, the enactment into law of the order-compulsory prohibiting inter-provincial shipments of liquor, free treatment to all tubercular patients, and, lastly, demanding a drastic tax on incomes, especially the large ones, which shall be less than the minimum of that required in the United States.

Britain Faces

Responsible Task

Viscount Bryce Delivers Message to Canadian Citizens in London.

London.—"Providence has ordained the British to be the race to do more for the welfare of mankind than any other people," declared Viscount Bryce at a meeting of Canadian citizens in London.

"Let us see," he continued, "what we as an empire never fail in this great and responsible task. Many of you are returning to your native land full of honors, and conscious that you have done your part in saving, not only the empire, but civilization. You will be honored by succeeding generations as the heroes of Trafalgar and Waterloo are honored."

"I hope you will return home with a full appreciation of how much Great Britain loves her dominions and how grateful she is for the golden service they have rendered to her. Our gratitude for that service is only equalled by the admiration for the valor and spirit of the men from the dominions. Do not forget what vast power for good there is in the union of British-speaking peoples who are in touch with all the other races of the world. It is impossible to exaggerate the wonderful influence that the tongue of the British races has upon the other peoples of the world."

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Has our community a Commercial Club? How often does it meet? Once a year every day? What is our club doing to increase its membership? Has it buried the last of the knackers? How many factories are there in the town? How many are there in the year. New members are added every day. The membership takes in farmers, as well as business men. There is something doing all the time. The greatest energy is expended on boosting the home market. Every body works at this, and the result is the Commercial Club puts the town on the map as a live community. This is all true of the best towns. In our town, too, we are content to be anything less than the best! Let's get into that class, and work each day to stay there.

Viceroy Utters Warning

Reaction Against Authority Unlikely To Leave India Untouched

Delhi.—In opening the legislative council, Lord Chelmsford, the viceroy said that the power which had enabled that power to be maintained during the war should be replaced by adequate substitutes. The reaction against authority which had manifested itself in many parts of the world was unlikely to leave India untouched. The government, he added, could not in its eyes to the undoubted existence in India of definitely revolutionary organizations and it would fail in its duty if it were not prepared to deal with them.

Special measures were clearly required for maintenance of His Majesty's government and the lives and property of the citizens. He therefore recommended two bills to regard thereto for their earnest consideration.

Basel.—At a meeting of the German peasants' union held at Berlin, the president of the organization declared in an address that the former emperor was to be blamed for having delayed too long the declaring of the award and his weakness caused the rise of socialism, according to a Berlin dispatch received here.

He said that British money had fostered dissension in the army and had led to the military collapse last November.

All the speakers, it is said, asserted the peasant union not loyal to the monarchist movement.

Foe Inserts New Phrases Into Text of Armistice

Under Foreign Office

Basel.—The German armistice commission will in future be under control of the foreign office, according to an unofficial dispatch from Berlin. The national assembly will naturally be consulted on all decisive questions it is said. The report of the resignation of Captain von Seelow, naval delegate from the German armistice commission, is semi-officially declared to be unfounded.

Ask $15 Increase

Winnipeg.—A flat increase of $15 per month for all civic employees is the demand to be presented at the special council meeting to be held on the wages question, it is learned. Increased cost of living is the basis of the demand. The demand if granted, will add $170,000 to the city's payroll.

Paris.—Communications and decorations made to the press by the German government in Berlin. Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice delegation contains "abrupt inaccuracies which require immediate correction," declares an official note issued. The note says:

First.—The text of Chancellor Scheidenstueck's protest communicated to the press by the German government differs notably from the original text handed to Marshal Foch by Erzberger at Treves on February 16 at six o'clock p.m. The first phrase as communicated to the press follows:

"The German government is conscious of the grave consequences that acceptance of the convention must entail."

The first phrase of the text as handed to Marshal Foch by Herr Erzberger reads:

"The German government is conscious of the grave consequences that either acceptance or refusal of the convention must entail."

In the same way a whole new phrase has been inserted into the press as communicated to the press as follows:

"It cannot yet be said if we are able to follow the instructions of the allied high command."

This phrase does not figure in the text as given to Marshal Foch by Erzberger.

The German note was handed to Marshal Foch before the signing of the convention and was accepted by him. From our point of view then it must be considered as forming part of the new armistice convention.

Marshal Foch has already informed the president of the German nation several times that the texts designed by the allied and enemy plenipotentiaries alone formed part of the armistice conventions. This note does not come within that category. It is absolutely independent of the convention. It constitutes a mere manifestation of the purely Platonic attitude of Scheidenstueck.

Third.—Finally Erzberger alleging certain preterred declarations of Marshal Foch has affirmed that:

"Four parties would be opened at an early date on the question of peace procedure."

The fact is that Marshal Foch categorically refused to give the slightest intimation on this subject notwithstanding the lively insistence of Erzberger.

Cottin Son of French Workman

Was Reader of Novels and Books on Astronomy and Sociology

Paris.—Emile Cottin, who attempted to assassinate Premier Clemenceau, was taken to state prison. Examination of the automobile in which the perpetrator was riding when he was fired upon showed seven distinct bullet marks.

The father and mother of Emile Cottin, the would-be assassin of Premier Clemenceau, are simple working men. They live in Rue Convention. The father works in a factory in Troy Les Maulineux. A brother, aged 17, also works in a factory there. A second brother is five and a half years old.

Neighbors of the family describe Emile Cottin as being addicted to neither smoking nor drinking, but was a great reader of novels and books on astronomy and sociology. His father tried in vain to combat the anarchistic ideas of his son, but the latter ridiculed him as being old-fashioned. When he heard the news of the attempted assassination, the father was at work, but at a presentiment, it is said, that the criminal was his son.

Emile Cottin was under treatment for an affection of the heart and a disease of the larynx.

Premier of France Shot by Anarchist

Paris.—Premier Clemenceau, characterized by Lloyd George as "France's grand old man," was attacked by an anarchist, Emile Cottin, known as "Milou." Seven shots were fired, three of which struck the premier. One bullet lodged in the muscles of the shoulder, penetrating deeply, but so far as it is at present known, not injuring the spine or pectoral glands. Two bullets struck the right arm and hand, while two other bullets are reported to have passed through the premier's clothing.

At the time of his attempted assassination M. Clemenceau had just left his home to drive in a motor car to the conference with Arthur J. Balfour, British secretary for foreign affairs, and Col. Edward M. House, of the American peace delegation. Though the exact time of the attack is not known, it is believed to have occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock.
